

A castle in Syria

Syria is a country. It is in Asia. It is in the part of the world that we call the Middle East. There is a castle in Syria that is very old and famous. The castle is about 1000 years old. The castle is huge. It sits on a Hill. It has an outer wall and an inner wall. It has a courtyard inside the walls. The entrance passage of the castle leads to the Courtyard. The entrance passage is long and dark. There is a lot of light in the Courtyard. It is bright and sunny. Attackers would have to go through the entrance passage. Their eyes would get used to the dark. That's why they would not be able to see well when they got to the courtyard. Their eyes would not be used to the light.

Answer the following questions.

Q1. Where is Syria located?

A: _____

Q2. How old is the castle?

A: _____

Q3. Where does the entrance passage of the castle lead to?

A: _____

Q4. How is the courtyard?

A: _____

Q5. Why would attackers not be able to see when they got to the courtyard?

A: _____